GATCHEL & MANNING PHILA.

Miss Clipper's Anecdotes, Personalities and Comments, CONCERNING STAGE FOLK and Sometimes OTHERS

BY JOSEPHINE GEO.

The fact that one of the greatest of the theatrical managers was considering the advisability of doing away with orchestras in dramatic performances, aroused considerable comment. Much excitement among the musicians of the Lyric Theatre followed the news that Rejane would not have the orchestra during her engagement at that playhouse. It is contended that the music between acts is usually of so different a tone to the play being enacted that the atmosphere of the piece is deranged and the intended dramatic effect upon the audience destroyed.

For instance, who can doubt that much of the success of that little Japanese tragedy, which was played so many months at Proctor's, was due to the music played during and between the acts. It kept one in continual touch with the dramatic action passing upon the stage.

If a score of theatre programmes were examined it would be found that the musical numbers between acts would be entirely out of harmony with the acts before and after them.

One of the most incongruous of programmes of absolutely light secular music was recently given at a performance of "The Holy City," one of Gordon & Bennett's successful productions. They were playing a theatre in a city not more than five hundred miles from New York, where one would have expected a somewhat different programme, considering the character of the play. However it was expressly stated that the "Young Men's Orchestra" of the place would make their first public appearance, and this, in the mind of the local manager, probably was of more importance than the sacred drama to be presented. The following is a synopsis of the printed programme sent to the writer. It certainly deserves reproduction as an example of inharmonious combination of play and entre acte music:

"Act I.—Scene 2.—Throne room in Herod's palace.—The Dance of Death—A Mother's curse."

(Followed by music) "Yankee Girl."

"Act II.—Scene 1.—Vineyard wall outside the city of Jerusalem."

(Followed by music) "Blue Bells."

"Act III.—Scene 5.—The Crucifixion (after Michael Angelo's great masterpiece)."

(Followed by music) "Handsome Harry."

"Act IV.—Scene 4.—The Resurrection—The Flight of Angels—The Gates of the New Jerusalem."

And the orchestra played the "Jersey Carnival" as the audience left the theatre.

George Ade's "Sho-Gun," which preceded "The Yankee Consul" at Wallack's Theatre, was on its first presentation much too long. Though it was afterwards shortened by many cuts and eliminations, the performance was yet several minutes too long. During a rehearsal, while Mr. Ade was in the wings, trying to see where he could tear out a few superfluous sentences, a little chorus girl attracted his attention by a touch on his sleeve, then anxiously whispered:

"Oh, Mr. Ade, won't you please write in a line for me? I have nothing whatever to say."

"I'm glad you haven't, little girl," replied the playwright, who could not see where another line might be cut without loss to the play. "I wish to heaven there were more people in the production who, like you, had nothing to say."

Wilson and Davis, the comedy singers, were at Zelma's famous cafe in Philadelphia the other evening, after their performance. Among the party were George Lederer, Edna Aug and other well known theatrical people. All were congratulating Miss Aug upon her success in "The Casino Girl." During the passing of compliments, refreshments, both solid and particularly liquid, were as freely dispensed. Mr. Wilson took his share of the latter and was feeling comfortably exhilarated, when, apropos of Miss Aug's triumph, Lederer remarked:

"Well, I tell you all right here, there is only one Miss Aug."

"Only one!" exclaimed the jovial Wilson, "why, I see three."

And Wilson had to "buy" generously.

Carlton and Terre, whose singing act is one of the very best on the list of vaudeville entertainment, experienced a laughable interruption one night during their turn at Pastor's. They were singing Libbey's popular song, "Nora," when a shrill, infantile voice, arose and screamed:

"Papa, oh, Papa!"

The audience turned their heads and beheld a baby girl, in its mother's lap, in the first row of the balcony. The little one was beseechingly holding out its arms in the direction of Mr. Terre, and to this fact the people were fully alive. Quickly grasping the situation, and determining to get a laugh for themselves out of it, Carlton said:

"I solemnly declare that Mr. Terre can prove an alibi."

O'Brien and Havel, of "Ticks and Clicks" fame, were some time ago starring in a comedy melodrama, called "Jimmy, the News-boy." O'Brien, as "Jimmy," was several sorts of a hero—a lover, newsboy and detective combined. In one scene he rushes on the stage saying:

"Ha! ha! I have the villain at last."

The "villain," however, did not take his cue, so O'Brien loudly repeated the line, anxiously looking toward the entrance for the expected one, of whom there was yet no sign. The scene had to progress, and the actor was in an extremity, so, rushing into the wings, he grabbed an astonished stage hand, and, pulling him into view of the audience, killed him after the manner planned by the playwright.

His apology afterwards to the frightened stage hand was:

"I had to kill someone to save the plot. Don't you care?"

Martha Hansford, the popular comedienne, relates an amusing instance illustrating the wit of an old darkey deacon. She attended services at a colored church in Nashville during her recent tour through the South. It seems that the preacher's salary was far in arrears, and there was to be a collection taken up to partially liquidate the same. The old deacon, who had charge of the plate, advanced to the platform and recounted how deeply in debt they were to the pastor, through whose utterances they were able to have the Bible expounded to them.

"Religion is free, all right, brethren and sisters," he harangued, "but dar's a few expenses in gittin' it to yu. De preacher an' de meetin' house co's' sumphin to run. Religion itself is free, but yu got to pay de express charges, so dig down in yu jeans, brethren."

John T. Kelly, the well known Irish comedian, so long with the Weber & Fields combination, was troubled with an aching tooth one day last season. One of the company suggested the assistance of a dentist as a solution of the difficulty, and volunteered to accompany the suffering comedian to a dental office he remembered to have noticed on Sixth Avenue, not far from the theatre.

The sign above the tooth doctor's door read: "French Dentist—Teeth Extracted," but on the glass of the door the same inscription had evidently met with a loss in the important word, dentist. In consequence the comedian read, "French Teeth Extracted," as he entered the hall way.

When the sign met his eye he turned and made a quick exit from the doorway, followed by his astonished friend.

"What's the matter, John," said he, "are you turning coward?"

"Divil a bit!" said Kelly, "but did you get onto the sign? That's no place for a son of the Emerald Isle. French teeth extracted, indeed. Faith! and it's every one of mine that's Irish to the root."

JOHN F. CLARK,

Whose picture appears on the front page of this issue, was born in Philadelphia, Pa., in the year 1861, and in 1878 made his first professional appearance at Gilmore's Grand Central Theatre, Philadelphia, doing an Irish song and dance with Tommy Ryan. After playing in and around Philadelphia for a few seasons, Mr. Clark went West, doing a single singing and talking act, until in 1885, Mr. Clark joined Chicago Dick Ford in Chicago. The team of Clark and Ford played together in the West until 1887. They dissolved partnership in San Francisco, Cal., and Mr. Clark then took up a single singing and talking act, and played through California and the far West until 1888. He then played in a sketch with his wife (the team being known as Clark and Angeline) off and on until 1901, when he again took the field singly, doing a monologue and singing act, which he is now presenting with marked success.

WRIGHT LORIMER,

Who has recently signed a five years' contract to star under the management of Wm. A. Brady, jumped suddenly into popularity last season through his production of "The Shepherd King," in which he played the leading role. Mr. Lorimer recently appeared in the title role of "Chatterton," Ernest Lacey's one act play, in Boston. His impersonation of the boy poet proved a surprise even to his most ardent admirers, and the critics of the Boston press were loud in their praise of his work. By the terms of the contract with Mr. Brady the latter will control the business end, and Mr. Lorimer will have absolute control of everything on the stage, selecting his plays and rehearsing them. The production of two new Biblical dramas, by Mr. Lorimer, as well as "The Shepherd King," are contemplated.

JOSEPH HOLLAND TESTIMONIAL.

The committee having in charge the arrangements for the testimonial to be tendered Joseph Holland at the Metropolitan Opera House some afternoon late in March, are daily receiving offers to aid in this worthy object. Last week offers of assistance were received from the Twelfth Night Club and from the Professional Woman's League.

Don't overlook the Anniversary Number next week.

OUR LONDON LETTER.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

Clipper Bureau,
48 Cranbourne Street,
Leicester Square,
London, W. C.

The weather during the past month has been delightful and most favorable to amusements of all kinds. While the pantomime season is petering out, the holiday rush at houses where other attractions than pantomime hold forth keeps up to the high water mark. The opening of the Coliseum and the Lyceum has cut into the business of two of the leading music halls in the West end and it remains to be seen whether this is a permanent cut or one that will close up after the newness of the Coliseum and the Lyceum wears off. Two or three of the local papers are creating a stir about lowering the price of seats and the reservation of them at clared to his wife Edith that she was cruelly victimized in having married so ill, while her two sisters' husbands were rich. But the wife says that she takes more joy in the training of her three boys, making them men, than she possibly could in any luxury or worldly delight. The curtain falls on a delightful ending of a charming little story. "Mr. Hopkinson" is announced as the title of the new farce by Mr. Carton, to be presented by Frank Curzon at the Avenue Theatre shortly. In this James Welch, lately compelled by illness to leave the Drury Lane pantomime, will figure at the head of a cast which will also include Miss Compton and Miss Hughes. Ellaline Terriss will return to the Vaudeville Theatre and make her first appearance in the part that was originally written for her in "The Catch of the Season," early in April next. Seymour Hicks is engaged upon a new musical comedy, the plot of which owes much to the story of Albery's "David Garrick," the musical numbers being supplied

MISS ELLIS JEFFREYS,

Who is to arrive in New York Feb. 18, for three years past has been leading lady of the Haymarket Theatre, London. Supported by her own carefully selected London company, to which have been added W. H. Thompson, Henry E. Dixey and other notable American players, she will begin an important starring engagement with Liebler & Co., at the New Amsterdam Theatre, Monday, March 6, presenting the William Boosey-Cosmo Gordon Lennox adaptation from the French of Xanrof and Chancel's "La Prince Consort," which George C. Tyler considers one of the most important productions of any he will make during this or next season. This engagement is one which has been long sought by Mr. Tyler, and became possible recently by the dissolution of the partnership existing between Frederic Harrison and Cyril Maude, managers of the Haymarket Company—an organization which, continued through notable successive managements, has for nearly a century been one of the leading companies in England. There is no actress in England today who stands higher in public estimation than Ellis Jeffreys, and few who are as popular. Not alone has she the talent to hold for three years the high position which few other actresses in England would even aspire to, but she has youth, beauty and a versatility rarely equaled. Her professional career prior to her promotion to the Haymarket company was of an unusual character. Beginning, as it did, with Charles Wyndham, at the Criterion, where for two years she played in comedy parts, she advanced rapidly toward stellar roles, and passed from the Criterion to the Adelphi, where she appeared in melodrama under the management of the Gattis, and thence to Terry's Theatre, where she became "leading lady." From Terry's she went to the Duke of York's to play leading roles in "The Dove-cot," and from there to John Hare's company, at the Garrick, where she remained for two years. She then returned to Mr. Wyndham, at the Criterion, from whence she went to the St. James, with Mr. Alexander, where, for two years longer, she was leading lady, and, while there, was tendered the position of leading lady at the Haymarket. Miss Jeffreys was the original "Cousin Kate" and "Lady Flirt," and almost her entire career has been identified with conspicuous roles in the notable plays by A. W. Pinero, Henry Arthur Jones, Sidney Grundy, Captain Robert Marshall, Hubert Henry Davies and other leading playwrights. Miss Jeffreys has developed marvelously, and her long engagement at the Haymarket has been but a series of triumphs. Miss Jeffreys' American debut will be made under circumstances worthy of her fame and name, and envied by conditions which should plead strongly for success. Her play enjoyed a run, in Paris, of a year and a half, and has been accepted by her as one which will present her in a role that will fit her personality and give her art full scope. The production will be a most elaborate one and one worthy of the occasion, and the cast, which will include such well known English players as Ben Webster and Kate Phillips, and, as above stated, W. H. Thompson and Henry E. Dixey, of this city, will be one of the strongest supports ever given a native or foreign star. "La Prince Consort" will be staged by Arnold Daly, whose achievements in the staging of "Candida," "You Never Can Tell" and other of the Bernard Shaw plays, have proved him to be possessed of unusual talent in this line of work, and leads us to hope for much of the artistic in the production of this new play and the appearance of a star new to the American stage.

by H. E. Haines. This new piece will probably form the principal item in the opening programme of the Hicks Theatre in Aldwych, which, if the contractors are willing, will be ready for occupancy about Christmas next, and in it Mr. Hicks and Miss Terriss will have the principal parts, under the management of Charles Frohman.

An English repertory theatre is of mature age as an aspiration, but as an achievement it is still unborn. In the influential army of those who champion the idea Walter Stephens, the dramatist, has now enlisted. Nor does he enter the field armed merely with arguments. He carries an impressive golden weapon. Mr. Stephens has sent the following letter to the editor of the leading papers in this city: "Sir, I desire to inform you that I have made a public offer to provide the sum of $25,000 for and towards the permanent establishment of a repertory theatre in the West End of London if the greater playing public will provide the sum of $100,000. It is proposed with special permission yet to be obtained to call it, if built, the Irving Repertory Theatre. The time has surely now arrived, after so much purposeless talk and beating the air, for the scheme to take practical shape and effect, so that all who take our art seriously can see in their midst a theatre such as the Comedie Francaise, the Deutsches Theatre in Berlin, and other subsidised stages in almost every continental town of note to our national shame and disgrace. Our theatre at present is in a very parlous and decadent condition, a fact admitted on all sides, and it will be the great aim of the repertory theatre to further in the greatest and idealistic sense the nobler dramatic art, and also the aesthetic education of the people, taking for its motto for all time—'The Utmost for the Highest.' It is proposed to admit the public free to the pit twice each week, whilst the charge for the stalls is to be fixed at eighty-five cents, and other seats in proportion." Mr. Stevenson is a cousin to the late Robert Louis Stevenson, but he bears little to fame in his own right.

Henry Irving began his latest tour at Portsmouth last week with a success which, under any other circumstances, might have been recorded as extraordinary, in the case of a farewell such as his. Moreover, the advance booking, wholly unprecedented, shows that his triumph will be repeated at other towns he is to visit.

Ward and Louis N. Parker's new three act play, "Agatha," on Thursday afternoon, Feb. 23. The performance will be on behalf of the funds of Princess Mary's Village Homes, Addlestone, and the Princess of Wales has promised to be present. "Agatha" will be seen on subsequent Monday evenings during the run of "Much Ado About Nothing."

Among those who will be in the production of "Du Barry," to be made at the Savoy Theatre early this month, by Mrs. Brown Potter, are: W. L. Abington, H. B. Warner, Clarence Blakiston, Jerrold Robertson, Harry Dodd, William Devereux Gilbert, who will appear as Louis XIV.; Aubrey Ford, May Pardoe, Helen Robertson, Elsie Chester and Mrs. Brown Potter, in the name part. Haddon Chambers will play the musical comedy; Boyle Lawrence and Hickory Wood another.

A deputation representing the Leeds Music Dealers' Association and dealers in London waited, last week, at Leeds, upon Gerald Balfour, to call his attention to the difficulties of combatting music pirates, and suggesting that the bill on the subject should be made a Government measure. It was stated that recently 247,000 copies of pirated music had been seized. Mr. Balfour, in reply, said he should certainly support Mr. Galloway's bill on the subject. He considered that the music dealers had some claim upon the time of the Government, and he recommended that efforts should be made in the direction of a ballot. He could not, however, definitely say that the Government would take up the bill. He would bring the matter before his colleagues, and he would speak to the attorney-general on receiving a letter from Leeds on the subject.

"Are entertainments too dear" is a topic, which, discussed in The Daily Mirror, has aroused remarkable interest, many correspondents inclining to the opinion that times and prices of entertainments were not suited to the requirements of the public. Thomas Barrow, manager of the Lyceum Theatre, entered into the controversy, asserting practically that a stall for seventy-five cents was the limit in cheapness at a good variety house. He went further and offered to place his variety theatre at the disposal of The Daily Mirror for one week, to be worked under such conditions as the proprietors deem commercially possible, any profits to go to charity. The Daily Mirror has accepted the offer and has decided that during the week commencing Feb. 6, that it will be responsible for the arrangements of fourteen or fifteen acts of two hours each. They will lower the prices of all seats, the prices being lower than those of any first class place of amusement open in London. The experiment is called "a fair price test."

G. Edgar Laban, of the Tivoli Theatre, Barrow-in-Furness, has been appointed agent in that town for the Music Hall Artists' Railway Association.

Owing to the success which has attended the song scenes which Mr. Stoll has produced at the Coliseum, it has been decided to introduce into the programme at an early date some additional numbers of the same character. One of these will be entitled "The Military Maids," written by Roland Carse, with music by Walter Slaughter, and presented by Millie Hylton and dancers. Another, entitled "Gollywogs," is written around Will Bishop, who will introduce his Gollywogs, and who by the same author and composer, Sybil Lonsdale and Bessie Burt will also appear as characters in this, supported by a number of trained children. A third item will be a Scotch song scene, "The Hielan Fishwife," introducing a medley of popular Scotch airs, with original additions by Mr. Slaughter, the lyrics being by Mr. Carse, and the name part played by Decima Moore, supported by the stock company. Miss Moore will also introduce a whistling solo, and will be assisted by pupils and friends. Some new picture songs will also be introduced.

Minola Mada Hurst, "Queen of the Magic Kettle," had a very successful month at Essen, and during the month of February will be at the Circus Cinesell, St. Petersburg.

Thomas A. Cook, who has been general manager of the Empire Theatre, Liverpool, for some years past, has been promoted to the position of supervising manager of the Liverpool and Manchester section of the Moss Empire circuit.

I have received word from Potter and Hartwell, who are now in the States, that they sail for Europe early in August, and will open Sept. 1, at Copenhagen, Denmark, where they remain for four weeks, and have forty-two weeks to follow.

Mr. Stoll hopes to have "Port Arthur" ready for production at the Coliseum early this month. The services of Frederic Villiers, the well known war correspondent, have been requisitioned, so as to ensure the scenic details being perfect.

Radie Funnam, a young American girl, has been meeting with great success at the Tivoli for the past six weeks and has two weeks more to stay, quite a record for one who is playing her first London engagement. She is at present considering offers from Mr. Payne about re-engagement at the same house. Miss Funnam's work is on the same lines as the clever Dutch specialty act presented by her aunt, Fanny Fields.

George Bull has been appointed press representative of the Lyceum by Thomas Barrasford. Norman French, the American eccentric dancer, has been added to the current bill at the Lyceum, Josephine Casaboni having been sent to Glasgow.

Little Tich, the popular English comedian, is en route to Australia, being under engagement to Harry Hicks.

A veteran actor has passed away in the person of Charles Henry Stevenson, who died recently at the age of eighty-two years. He was the Father Tom in "The Colleen Bawn" when Dion Boucicault's famous play was produced at the Adelphi Theatre in September, 1860. Mr. Stevenson was also the author of several plays.

McPhee and Hill, who are at the Empire Theatre, Sheffield, this week, are nearing the end of their engagement in this country and expect to sail for America the week of March 20. Al. Lawrence expects to leave for the States about the same time. He tells me that he will return next October for twenty-six weeks on the Barrasford tour.

In accordance with the suggestion adopted at the last general meeting, that future interim dividends should not exceed five per cent, the directors of the Palace Theatre have declared an interim dividend of five per cent, less income tax, payable on the 14th prox.

"The Maid of the Niagara Falls Rapids," after a three years' tour in America, arrived in London a short time ago and was a recent caller at THE CLIPPER Bureau. She has not settled upon any plans as yet.

Coco, the educated ape, made his first public appearance in England at the Palace Theatre last Monday night. Coco dined with his trainer, selecting the dishes and the wines he requires, and in every respect acts the part of a man about town. The act is a very good novelty and is going well.

The London Pavilion report for 1904 shows a net profit of $72,900, and the directors recommend a further dividend of 30 per cent. for the half year ended Dec. 31, less income tax, making 45 per cent. for the year, leaving a balance of $9,325.

Harry Houdini, the handcuff king, who is at Barnard's Theatre, Chatham, this week, will in the course of a few weeks take out his own company, to play all the principal provincial towns. With a good company and great paper, Mr. Houdini thinks the show ought to win. He is a hustler and would like to see him succeed. The Moss people tried to prevent Mr. Houdini keeping his engagement with the Barnard tour, but the courts decided that Mr. Houdini was in the right. Immediately after this little court affair several acts sprung up "exposing" the handcuff trick, but they did not last long. This was a second victory for Mr. Houdini.

The latest communication from Klein, Ott Brothers and Nicholson: "We are now booked up from July 17 to Nov. 1 as follows: The Hippodrome, London Eng.; the Oscar Carte, Amsterdam, Holland; and the Wintergarten, Berlin. We return to America Jan. 1, 1906."

Charles Griffin, manager of Buffalo Bill's Side Shows, and his wife, professionally known as Octavia, called the other day. Mr. Griffin is very busy now getting ready for the coming season. I. H. Wakefield, a well known newspaper man in this city, was with them.

Drawee, the comedy juggler, is in town and will open his engagement at the Tivoli Feb. 6, and will stay at that house for eight weeks. He is a frequent Bureau caller.

Lew Wells is in the final week of his engagement at the Palace Theatre, and because of the illness of his wife and boy, will leave for America Feb. 14 on the Ivernia. Mr. Wells and family have been away from America for a year, and look forward to their return with delight.

A challenge has been issued by Prof. Arthur Rickards, a Liverpool dancing master. He is desirous of attempting to create a world's record of endurance, and has invited a rival to come forward and dance to a finish; to dance, if necessary, the clock round. In France a professional dancer recently ploughed for eighteen hours without stopping. This feat Prof. Rickards will try to eclipse. "I shall take my food while on the

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.

All copy intended for publication in the Anniversary number of THE CLIPPER, dated Feb. 25, should reach us by Saturday, Feb. 18.

Vaudeville and Minstrel.

WALBORN and WHITNEY inform us that they are en route with M. L. Kinsey's "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" Co., doing their ladder act as a feature since Nov. 1. They did not go West as intended, but are still working. They enjoyed a merry Christmas and happy New Year with this company. They were well remembered and after the show Christmas eve enjoyed a "Dutch lunch."

M. L. CHADWICK, of the Chadwick Trio, was a CLIPPER caller, and informs us that his daughter, Ida May, is the proud possessor of the Richard K. Fox Police Gazette medal for lady wooden shoe buck dancing, which she won at Tammany Hall Tuesday night, Jan. 31.

ILA GRANNON.

Whose picture appears above, is a clever singing comedienne, who has just broken into the ranks of vaudeville. Up to the past few weeks, she has been, all this season, the leading soubrette with Scribner & Hill's New York Stars Co. She is at present on the bill circuit, where her structure and up to date success. She is, as she is billed, "An up-to-date singer of up-to-date songs."

NIBBE and BORDOUX (Mrs. M. E. Nibbe), in their comedy and singing act, report meeting with success through the Northwest, playing from one to two weeks' engagements. The new comedy in the act, they write, always creates laughter, and is an important addition. They were a success at the Haymarket and Chicago Opera House, and they are booked up in several of the first class vaudeville theatres.

TAULTON and TAILTON report meeting with success with their comedy musical act, and are playing return dates through the middle West.

A VAUDEVILLE THEATRE is being built at South Bend, Ind., by Emmet C. Keane, formerly with the "Quincy Adams Sawyer" Co. The new playhouse will, we are informed, be a fireproof structure and up to date in every detail. The name of the new house is to be the Olympic, and it will open about May 1, 1905.

NOTES FROM THE V. P. WORMWOOD'S TRAINED ANIMAL and VAUDEVILLE CO. are now playing in Santiago de Cuba, having played at the National Theatre, in Havana, for four weeks, and have been doing the larger towns of the interior for the past three weeks. We are one of the very few American shows which have come to this island and made a financial success. Every act on the bill is meeting with success. The programme is opened by V. P. Wormwood's dogs, monkeys, bears and ant-eaters. The other features include the Orloff Troupe, Russian gymnasts; Sansone and Della, juggling and balancing; Chester Johnson, bicyclist; May Evans, whistler and imitator, accompanied by her mother, Glenn and Cassella, colored singers, dancers and cake walkers; Jack Apple, stage manager; C. Brown and Ed. Night, proprietors; B. J. Murphy and Geo. Kelly, assistants; Antonio Aguero, advance representative; Jocko Ynodoros, interpreter. Everybody is in good health. Why should they not be with genuine Havana smokes at three cents each?

THE CLAUSSEN SISTERS report success at the Columbia Theatre, Boston; also at the Theatre Francaise, Montreal, Can., while playing with W. B. Watson's Cozy Corner Girls Co.

JOSEPH JEFFERSON'S REAPPEARANCES.

Joseph Jefferson will make his reappearance on the stage at the Boston Theatre, Boston, Mass., Easter Monday. His sons, Thomas and Joseph Jr., will play "Rip Van Winkle" all that week, and Mr. Jefferson will deliver an address each evening between the acts.

The following week Mr. Jefferson will come to New York and make his farewell appearance on the stage at Joseph Holland's benefit at the Metropolitan Opera House.

OKLAHOMA.

Oklahoma City.—At the Overholser (Ed. Overholser, manager) "Sergeant Kitty," Jan. 31, drew the capacity. Hoyt Comedy Co., 2-4, pleased. "Railroad Jack" 5.

A sumptuous revival of "Dick Whittington and His Cat" is in contemplation for next season, which will serve to bring forward the Speck Bros., who are the original "yellow kids" of cartoon fame. In their present vocation as features with "McFadden's Flats" their popularity shows no signs of lessening. Their new enterprise will be directed by Gus Hill, who has commissioned George Edwards to send over several European novelties to be introduced in the forthcoming production.

There is only one Empire State Express, and it runs over the New York Central at the most rapid rate for the distance of any train in the world.

CHARLES ELDREDGE GRIFFIN writes from Edinburgh, Scotland, Jan. 16, as follows: "Quite the best thing I have seen over here for a showman, is the Waverley Market Carnival, at Edinburgh, which opened Boxing Day (Dec. 26) and closed Jan. 14. For the past twenty years this enterprise has been under the management of H. E. Moss, managing director of the Moss Empire, Ltd., and is now well sign a national institution. For a week prior to the opening date, carpenters, plumbers, electricians and decorators were at work, so that the cheerless, grey old market seemed as if transformed by magic into a veritable fairyland. The stage programme this year was especially fine, embracing: Princess Leah, on the high wire; Robertus and Wilfrido, ball manipulators; Desmond and Mora, horizontal bars; Les Vicentinas, skaters; the Siddons, comedy jugglers; Ivan Tschernoff's trained ponies, dogs, cats and pigeons; Abel and Welsh, acrobatic grotesques; Lukushina Japanese Troupe; Apollo, Scottish athlete; the Roscoe Midgates, well known in America, and Herr Julius Seeth's twenty-three well trained lions. For the last week the following extra attractions were introduced: James Watson, triple bar cyclist, riding against Dolly Varden, on a revolving platform, and Yukio Tani, Japanese wrestler, meeting all comers. The people over here are wrestling mad at present, and the latter proved to be a tremendous card. The side shows, for which 8d. (six cents) extra is charged, were varied and interesting, as follows: The Magic Kettle; Rosie, Russian fat girl; Octavia, American snake charmer; Griffin, Yankee Samodra's Mysterious Countess X; C. V. York's electric palace, two headed lady illusion, working ants and bees, the Howards illusion of 'He', Gus Hart's 'voyage in a submarine', Wilmet's gondolas and royal hunters, the gorgeous roundabout, for which this country is famous; shooting saloons, photograph galleries, games and stalls of all kinds. The exhibition is open from 11 A. M. until 11 P. M. Admission, six pence, and six pence extra for a seat. On Monday, Jan. 2, the big day, no less than 40,000 people attended the carnival. It is said the management clears from five to ten thousand pounds on this enterprise every year, and although of only short duration, to the experienced concessionaire it is worth more than a long season in many places."

ARTHUR GRIFFITH HUGHES, the concert and oratorio singer, informs us that he has been engaged as a headliner in a musical sketch to be put on at Keith's, under the direction of Claude Alviene. He will be assisted by the Grey Sisters, dancers and violinists. The sketch will have very elaborate scenic effects.

EDDIE LEONARD.

Is featured this season with Geo. H. Primrose's Minstrels, under the management of James H. Decker. His songs, "Sally" and "Lyna," as sung by him, are encored nightly. Next season he will present at the vaudeville houses a big minstrel first part of twenty people, and a big spectacular moonlight singing and dancing act.

NOTES FROM JOHN W. VOGEL'S BIG CITY MINSTRELS.—We have just completed our Eastern tour and are now en route West, where we play several return engagements. This has been the most successful season Mr. Vogel has enjoyed during his seven years with his own company, from an artistic as well as a financial standpoint. The season opened Aug. 11, at Hamilton, O., and the route so far has covered over eleven thousand miles, and extended from Ohio south into the Carolinas, north into New England, and will finish the season in June with a supplementary season through the upper peninsula. There has been very few changes in the personnel of the company, and, strange as it may seem, not a single case of sickness to interfere with the performances. Mr. Vogel probably holds the record for rebooking his minstrels more than one year in advance, which bespeaks his popularity and enviable reputation, acquired by his fair treatment and the excellence of the performers always in his employ. Mr. Vogel has played Poughkeepsie, N. Y., four consecutive times on Christmas and New Year's, and is rebooked in both of those cities for the same dates next season. The company appeared at the Bastable Theatre, Syracuse, N. Y., Feb. 2-4, giving five performances to capacity, and on Saturday afternoon more people were turned away than were accommodated in the theatre. This is in spite of the fact that we were preceded by other well known minstrel companies. This is the only minstrel company that has played Syracuse in years that did not make a parade, and the fact of our not parading was town talk. Manager Vogel is organizing one of the biggest minstrel shows that has ever been seen in America for his next season's tour, and he has a great surprise in store for the lovers of this style of amusement.

NELLIE SKYRMOUR, "The Colorado Girl," reports success in her act. She will open on the Proctor circuit in April for five weeks.

THE WHITE RATS have received from William Morris, the agent, one hundred dollars as a fund, raised by subscription among vaudeville people, to defray expenses connected with the death of the late Harry Sparrow. Mr. Sparrow was formerly a member of the White Rats.

THE AHERNS, novelty acrobats, did not go on the East circuit as has been stated, but play West over Crystal circuit to Salt Lake City, after which they join the California Fiesta Carnival Co., at Los Angeles, Cal., March 10, for a Summer tour through California.

EDNA MAY CRAWFORD, who has been seriously ill at her home in Harlem, has gone South. Miss Crawford has purchased one of the latest up to date picture machines, which will be operated by Van R. Boyd.

The Anniversary Number will be out next week.

NOTES FROM WM. H. WAGNER'S MINSTRELS.—The following people have been engaged for my show: O'Brien, Cameron and Thomas, John Lancaster, Tambourine McCarthy, Brooks and Young, Percy Reed, baritone singer; Maud Hayward, and Gracie Thomas, and as an extra feature the O'Brien troupe of acrobats. Our new "Grotto," first part setting, has just been completed, and it is a beauty. Our big plantation afterpiece, written by John Lancaster, is by far the best act of its kind ever introduced in minstrelsy. We carry a band of twelve pieces, and in our concerts in the street parade we introduce Miss Hayward and Miss Thomas in cornet and trombone solos and duets. We are booked solid in Texas until June. Our Spring parade costs and high hats have arrived, but we will not use them for a few weeks.

CHEN CHRISTOPHER has just played the Yale Theatre, Kansas City, Mo., and the Christal at St. Joseph, making more than good, he informs us. He is coming East.

MARIE RICHMOND, of Roble's Knickerbocker Burlesques, tendered a banquet to the other members of the company in Washington, D. C. It was held on the stage after the evening performance, and was quite an elaborate affair. There were several non-professional friends of Marie Richmond present, and a number of friends from other companies playing in that city. Toasts were delivered by Louis Roble, manager of the show; Joseph Roble, business manager; "Governor" Kernan, manager of the theatre, and several of those associated with the hostess in the cast. The festivities continued until a late hour, a number of songs and impromptu speeches being a feature.

JAMES A. HENNESSY closed ten months' work through California at the Bell Theatre, Oakland, Jan. 8. He opened at the Baker Theatre, Portland, Ore., Jan. 16, for two weeks, and will play back to Chicago, opening in Summer.

HARRY RICH writes that his big vaudeville company played to standing room only at Lakewood, N. J., Jan. 17, under the auspices of the Knights of Pythias. The following talent appeared: Taggart and Leland, Frank King, the Ahrens, Collins and Wood, Harry Rich, Burton Sisters, the Connors and Add. Francis. A ball, after the entertainment, was a success from start to finish.

THE NEW LONDON, CONN., OPERA HOUSE has been thoroughly renovated this season, new dressing rooms added, the heating apparatus greatly improved and this popular house of burlesque now has a very cozy appearance. John R. Willis' Musical Comedy Co. played this theatre in a burlesque recently, to a capacity audience, and gave excellent satisfaction.

THE BROS. KOSSI played the Orpheum Theatre, Omaha, Neb., week of Jan. 22, with Kansas City to follow week of Feb. 5. They have the rest of the Orpheum circuit.

TAYLOR and McCOR report success at London and Hamilton, Can., and have the Bijou circuit beginning in May. At London they were initiated into the mysteries of the Raspberries.

THE CLARENCE SISTERS write: "Having just arrived from Australia, after being six years and four months with Harry Rickard's company, we are going to try our luck in America. We are booked ahead, working towards the East."

TOMMY DEER, comedy trick pianist, reports meeting with success with the Western Vaudeville Co., touring California.

MR. and MRS. ROBLEY L. HOOPER report doing well in vaudeville. They have the Lyric circuit, commencing at Denver, Col., Feb. 6, with other good work to follow, being booked through the South for the Summer.

CASSIE BERNARD SYDELL and JACK SYDELL, parents of Baby Rose Sydel, two years old, report a pleasant birthday for their daughter, Jan. 25, when she received many valuable gifts.

LOTTIE GILSON EMMET, through her counsel, Milliken & Nicholson, was discharged in bankruptcy on Jan. 30. Her petition was presented Nov. 2, 1904.

VIOLATOR B. McCOR writes: "I am now filling a twenty weeks' Western engagement with my singing act, as put on at Proctor's Oct. 24, 1904. THE CLIPPER follows me into every nook and corner of this great world. I have been very successful so far, and may count for more than the original twenty weeks."

WILLIAM GROSS informs us that he recently finished fifty-three weeks on the Consolidated circuit, and leaves Seattle, Wash., for Providence, R. I., where his parents are at present. After spending a few days at home he will return to the coast March 19, to play a return engagement on the Consolidated circuit.

BON CARROLL writes: "My wife, Lillian Gardner, who has been resting for the last nine months, will resume work with me on Feb. 27 at the Galaxy Theatre, Springfield, Ill., and we are booked for twenty weeks in the middle West. We expect to be in New York before long, and will also take a pleasure trip to England."

BLANCH B. JONES, who is meeting with success in her act, is one of the Rainbow Sisters, in B. C. Whitney's Show Girl Co., which has just finished a delightful coast trip.

MILDRED and MABELLE have again joined hands in a new act, written especially for them. They are booked up until May, for the present.

BRAVO and ASHTON inform us that they are at their home, spending a few weeks with relatives and friends. They have been on the Pacific coast for eight years.

ALLEY and ASHLEY are still with Charles Lamb (Murray Comedy Co.), as one of the vaudeville features, and report meeting with success.

"MARVELOUS TATUM," mind reader, will open his Spring season at Gainesville, Tex., Feb. 14, under the personal direction of L. B. Nease. The management, it is stated, has surrounded Mr. Tatum with a company of high class specialty people.

HUBERT DEVEAU writes: "At the Orpheum Theatre, Kansas City, during the week of Jan. 16, I was given an agreeable surprise by the leader of the orchestra, Prof. Lange, who, on Thursday evening, sprang a beautiful, new composition (without warning) on my encore picture, 'The Snow Storm.' There was everything in the melody to inspire him in hurrying the actors on, for the music told everything as the artist developed it. There was the approaching storm, the whizzing of the wind, the blinding snow, the farm house buried under it. Then came the subsiding into calm. At this point the theatre was darkened and the moonlight effect, and the music softened into a tremolo, as the little horse and cutter drove across the snow."

CHAR. B. WATSON has closed with the New York Stars Co., and is now with Little Egypt's London Gaiety Girls.

NOTES FROM GIBNEY and WAGNER'S ATTRACTION.—We are now touring through Pennsylvania and playing to the biggest houses in the history of the company. At Lansford, Pa., Jan. 28, the crowd was so great that the chief of police made us close the doors at quarter of eight, and at 8:15 the crowd was so eager to get seats that one end of the gallery gave way and several people were hurt.

THE THREE PATTERNS report meeting with great success with the "Jerry from Kerry" Co.

THE MALLORY BROS., BROOKS and HALLIDAY report success on the Orpheum circuit.

KATHERINE KLARE is doing good work with the Bon Tons, as Magnolia Dooley in the first part and as Milla Bond in the burlesque, "A Wild Night." Her French costume is especially noticeable.

JOHN R. NALON, "The Musical Wonder," is in his sixth week, with Chas. J. Walsh's Vaudeville Co. He reports great success with his act everywhere.

AGAINST THE DRUG CRAVE
A LASTING CURE ENSURED
HOME TREATMENT

THROUGHOUT the medium of public periodicals we desire to reach the thousands of those who need help, instead of the hundreds only whom we can treat in private practice.

The remedy we offer has been used with convincing success by our associate physicians in their private practice for many years. Cases in all stages have been permanently cured. By the use of this remedy a portion of the drug is expelled each day from the system, its tonic properties supplying a natural strength in place of the fictitious support formerly supplied by the drug.

One of our associate physicians will diagnose and treat each case individually. Treatment is taken in patient's own home and will not interfere with daily occupation. We accept only those patients who are truthful in their statements to us, strictly follow instructions and promptly fulfill their just obligations. If any patient finds treatment unsatisfactory at the end of two weeks we will cheerfully refund the money he or she has paid us.

DESCRIPTION.
Before an artfully constructed large concave mirror-reflects a beautiful globe, covered with magnificent stones in different colors, is supported on chains by a fan wheel, which runs with its steel point in a jewel knob. The light has its place in the centre of the globe, wonderfully glittering and shining through the colored stones and the skillfully placed opening in the metal parts of the globe. The heat from the electric bulb, gas or the oil light brings the fan wheel into rotation and the globe revolves around the light. The whole mirror screen is covered with the reflecting of the
and always changing color.

The whole effect is one of such unspeakable beauty that no picture is able to give a description of it; the colors move like in a kaleidoscope, but have such a splendor that every comparison is displaced.

"THE PERFECT THEATRE"

Is the title of a well written article, by J. E. O. Fridmore, in the February number of THE ARCHITECTURAL RECORD. The illustrations include several modern theatres, as well as the ruins of famous auditoriums. The exit plans of several European opera houses, the theory of the up draft and downward system ventilations, and other facts of interest to managers, are clearly set forth.

Kitty Abbey, daughter of the late Henry E. Abbey, celebrated her twenty-second birthday 9.

The Anniversary Number will be out next week.

OUR CHICAGO LETTER.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

Western Bureau.

Room 502, Ashland Block, Chicago.

The Henry W. Savage production of "Parfais," in English, at the Illinois Theatre, holds especial interest to the current days. Another novelty will be offered by James K. Hackett, at the Grand Opera House, in "The Fortunes of the King." The Perley Opera Co., in "The Girl and the Bandit," at the Studebaker; May Irwin, in "Mrs. Black is Back," at the DuSable; and "The Royal Chef," at the Garrick; Andrew Mack, in "The Way to Kenmare," at McVicker's; "Ben Hur," at the Auditorium, and "His Highness, the Bey," at the La Salle, are continued attractions. Florence Bindley, in "The Street Singer," is the Northern's contribution to the novelties of the week. At the outlying popular priced houses, the "wheel" burlesque resorts, and at the dramatic stock theatres the bills make their weekly changes as usual. During the past week considerable interest centered in the change of policy at Hyde & Behman's, where "Smiling Island" replaced vaudeville. We were also regaled with our first views of May Irwin, in "Mrs. Black is Back," at "Powers," and the establishment of "Sea Hur," which also created considerable interest. On Saturday night, Feb. 11, Richard Mansfield closed five weeks of capacity business at the Grand Opera House, where, during his stay, he played to the greatest business Chicago theatre has known during that period.

ILLINOIS THEATRE (Will J. Davis, manager).—The Henry W. Savage production of "Parfais," in English, begins a limited engagement here on Monday night, 13. Prices range from $1 to $5. On Saturday night, 11, Virginia Harne ended a successful fortnight of "The Lady Shore."

POWERS THEATRE (Harry J. Powers, manager).—May Irwin enters upon her second and concluding week Monday evening, 13, continuing "Mrs. Black is Back" at her offering. On Sunday night, 12, Leon Wachner's German Stock Co., from Milwaukee, will, as usual, have the house for one performance.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE (Harry Askin, business manager).—On Monday night, 13, James K. Hackett begins a fortnight of "The Fortunes of the King." Richard Mansfield, on 11, ended five weeks of absolute capacity business at every performance. Blanche Bates, in "The Darling of the Gods," comes 27, for one week.

McVICKER'S THEATRE (Geo. C. Warren, business manager).—Andrew Mack continues "The Way to Kenmare" into his second and last week Sunday night, 12. On Friday, Frederick Warde and Katherine Kidder began a fortnight of "A Winter's Tale." During the past week Mr. Mack played to large business.

GARRICK THEATRE (Sam P. Gerson, business manager).—Dave Lewis, in "The Royal Chef," met a vociferous welcome home, and played to large business during the past week. The engagement ends with the current days, and on 19, booked for a fortnight, Charles Hawtrey will give "A Messenger from Mars."

STUDEBAKER THEATRE (R. E. Hartmeyer, business manager).—The Perley Opera Co. continues "The Girl and the Bandit" into its sixth and probably last week, Monday evening, 13. Walter Jones, Viola Gillette and other clever folks engaged have brought this excellent entertainment thus far through a highly successful engagement.

AUDITORIUM THEATRE (Milward Adams, manager).—Opening a six weeks' engagement Monday evening, 6, the Klaw & Erlanger production of "Ben Hur" attracted large audiences during the past week, and so thoroughly has the entertainment pleased that there seems an excellent prospect of a highly satisfactory engagement.

HYDE & BEHMAN'S THEATRE (Archibald Ellis, business manager).—"Smiling Island" changed the policy of the theatre, from vaudeville to combinations on Monday evening, 6, when capacity business marked the opening of an indefinite run for the Geo. Lederer production. Edna Ang won a personal triumph through her artistic efforts. Reine Davies scored a personal hit as a comedienne, and the ensemble numbers were splendid. "Smiling Island" seems to have "caught on," and the expected run seems probable.

GREAT NORTHERN THEATRE (Fred C. Ebers, business manager).—Florence Bindley will be seen in "The Street Singer," starting Sunday afternoon, 12, for the first time in Chicago, booked to remain a week and following a prosperous week for "A Girl from Dixie," which closed 11. D. L. Don and Gertrude Millington were the features, and won considerable patronage.

LA SALLE THEATRE (E. R. Mackey, business manager).—"His Highness, the Bey," still strong in popular favor, with Al Shean multiplying in popularity with each performance, enters upon its thirteenth week Sunday evening, 12, with nothing said about the run terminating.

CRITERION THEATRE (Ben M. Giroux, business manager).—C. B. Jefferson's production of "Shadows of a Great City" moves over to the North side for the current days, opening the customary round of fourteen performances Sunday afternoon. During the past week "After Midnight," in which Jack Webster is featured, played to excellent business.

ALHAMBRA THEATRE (James H. Browne, business manager).—"Child Stars of New York" takes up the entertainment of these patrons Sunday afternoon, billed to continue through the present week. During the past week "Shadows of a Great City" added to its popularity with South sliders through the excellence of interpretation and its many stirring scenes.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC (Wm. Roche, business manager).—Jack Webster, in "After Midnight," provides the current entertainment here, starting Sunday afternoon, 12. During the past week, "Child Stars of New York" attracted excellent business and gave good satisfaction to these melodramatically inclined audiences.

COLUMBIA THEATRE (Weber Bros., managers).—Nannette Constock will be seen in "The Street Singer," starting Sunday afternoon, 12, for the first time in Chicago, booked to remain a week and following a prosperous week for "A Girl from Dixie," which closed 11. D. L. Don and Gertrude Millington were the features, and won considerable patronage.

BLISS THEATRE (Wm. Roche, business manager).—"The stirring scenes of 'Darkest Russia' enthused large audiences last week, and on Sunday afternoon a melodrama, new to West sliders, entitled "The Factory Girl," began the usual round of fourteen performances for the current days.

RUSH TEMPLE OF MUSIC (Elizabeth Schrober, manager).—"The Players' Stock Co." has been presenting "Romeo and Juliet" during the past week to attentive audiences. Mabel Montgomery and Geo. Allison were seen to commendable advantage in the leading roles. This house is enjoying a very prosperous season.

PROLE'S THEATRE (Leslie Davis, manager).—The Leslie Davis Stock Co., headed by Lillian O'Neill and Eugene Moore, change their bill Sunday afternoon, 12, to "Woman Against Woman," following a prosperous week of "Esmeralda," which terminated Saturday night.

HOWARD THEATRE (Lorin J. Howard, manager).—Joseph D. Clifton and June Agnott finished a fine week for "Knobs of Tennessee" Saturday night, 11. The stock company here is being liberally patronized and is gaining in neighborhood esteem.

THIRTY-FIRST STREET THEATRE (Minnie Willard Nelson, manager).—Again does this resort come into publicity through the intention of May Mosier to offer stock company dramas where others have miserably failed. She opens Sunday afternoon, 12, with "A Fall Rebel." Frederick Boggs will be her leading man.

OLYMPIC THEATRE (Abe Jacobs, manager for Kohl & Castle).—Opening Monday afternoon, 13: Caldwell and Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Pierce, Sawtelle and Seaton, the Marxes, Etta F. Dench, the Waldron Bros., Texas Sisters, the Bush-Devere Trio, Fox and Foyle, Geo. Wilson, Emmett Corrigan and company, James H. Cullen, Burke and La Rue, Paul Conchas and Geo. K. Spoor's kinodrome.

HAYMARKET THEATRE (W. W. Freeman, manager for Kohl & Castle).—Opening Monday afternoon, 13: Kosure and Chapin, Humes and Lewis, Mary Hagarty, the Brothers De Onzo, the Milroy Trio, the Ellis-Novlin Trio, Tom Ripley, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Murphy, Lillian Shaw, Elson and Errol, the Nichols Sisters, the Navajo Girls, the Five Mowatts and Geo. K. Spoor's kinodrome.

CHICAGO OPERA HOUSE (C. B. Draper, manager for Kohl & Castle).—Opening Monday afternoon, 13: Barth and Krage, the Beeners, the Trillians, Burton and Burton, Apollo, Carberry and Stanton, Fisher and Johnson, Carrie Scott, De Witt, Burns and Torrence, Dorothy Russell, Bellmann and Moore, the Two Pucks, Staley and Burbeck, Lew Sully, the Duffin-Heddy Troupe and Geo. K. Spoor's kinodrome.

SAM T. JACK'S THEATRE (Sidney J. Enson, manager).—Sam T. Jack's Jungle Girls, with Frank Finney featured in the company, remains the burlesque stock offering at this house for a second week. Mr. Finney is in great favor with these audiences, and has been quickly restored to popularity despite several months' absence.

TROCADERO THEATRE (Robert Fulton, manager).—"The World Beaters" make their first Chicago bow this season, Sunday afternoon, 13, the probability of goodly crowds expecting them to defend their title. During the past week the Tiger Lilies were in entertaining evidence with good business results.

FOLLY THEATRE (Robert Fulton, manager).—Alice & Byron's Big Gaiety Co. returns this week at this house. The Kelly & Wood Show was much commented upon during the past week and attracted the average Folly business. They broke the house record for burlesque on their Sunday evening, 13.

ARTIST THEATRE.—Work upon White City, Chicago's new Summer park, is progressing rapidly, with every prospect of things being in ample readiness for the opening on May 27. The Banda Rossa will be a featured attraction, and a fortnight's engagement has been made and preparations are going forward for these concessions: Electric tower, "Fighting the Flames," Canals of Venice, scenic railway, baby incubators, flying airships, "bumping the bumps," "Bridges," "shoot the chutes," "Floods," "Steam City," "Automat," vaudeville, observation wheel, prodigious fun factory and midway.

Will J. Davis, manager of the Illinois Theatre, who, as president of the Iroquois Theatre Co., was indicted by a grand jury for favoring a manslaughter after the fire in that theatre, Dec. 30, 1903, was discharged by Judge Kersten, on Feb. 9, under a motion to quash the indictment. At Towle's Opera House, Hammond, an Indiana suburb of Chicago, "Sherlock Holmes" is in its second and last week at this house. The play has been favorably handled by the critics, and the strong supporting company has also won deserved praise. Capacity business ruled last week. Charles Wyndham comes Feb. 20, in "David Garrick."

PARK THEATRE (Chas. Frohman, Rich & Harris, managers).—The current week is the second of the engagement of Annie Russell, in "Brother Jacques." This play, new to Boston, was well liked by crowded houses last week. Next week, "Jenny, the Carrier," by Israel Zangwill, will be presented for the first time on any stage, with Miss Russell in the title role. Feb. 27 brings Cecilia Loftus, in "The Serio-Comic Governor."

BOSTON THEATRE (Lawrence McCarthy, manager).—Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" continues to please good sized houses. The three weeks' engagement ends Saturday evening of the current week. "Quincy Adams Sawyer" will be the attraction commencing Feb. 20.

MAJESTIC THEATRE (Stair & Wilbur, managers).—Wright Lorimer, in "The Shepherd King," enters upon his fifth and final week Monday evening, Feb. 13. Prosperity has ruled during the engagement. De Wolf Hopper, in "Wang," is announced to follow Feb. 20, in place of Grace George, who was previously announced as the next attraction.

GLOBE THEATRE (Stair & Wilbur, managers).—Edward Blondell, in "The Lost Boy," is the offering at this house for the current week. "The Burgomaster," an old Boston favorite, closed two weeks of good business last week. "Held by the Enemy" will be presented, and pleased large audiences.

BOWDOIN SQUARE THEATRE (G. E. Lothrop, manager).—"The Man o' War's Man" is the bill given by the stock company this week. "The Great Train Robbery" was produced last week, to big business, all the favorites coming in for well deserved applause.

KEITH'S THEATRE (B. F. Keith, manager).—Opening Monday afternoon, Feb. 13: Ernest Hogan, Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Drew, Julian Eltinge, Adelaide Hermann, Rice and Prentiss, the "Held by the Enemy" was well presented, and pleased large audiences.

THEATRE (C. W. Anderson, manager).—The bill at this house (formerly Music Hall) includes: John T. Kelly and company, Elsie Janis, Mme. Sapirofski, Hengler Sisters, Chas. Leonard Fletcher, the Carmen Troupe, Jackson Family, Simon and Paris, Cooper and Robinson and the vitagraph. Business continues excellent. The new Washington Street lobby will be opened Monday, 13.

HOWARD ATHLETIC (Carl D. Lothrop, business manager).—The management provide another strong list this week and the usual crowds will prevail. The cards: Marco Twins, Emilie Huch, Jane Elton and Co., Fitzgibbon-McCoy Trio, Musical Kleist, Messinger Boys' Trio, Arthur A. Whitelaw, Hathaway and Walton, Al Carleton, the Zarnes, Epps and Loretta, Butler and Lamar, Frank L. Browne and the kinetograph, Geo. B. Alexander appears in conjunction with the burlesque company, in "Frenzied Frolic."

PALACE THEATRE (Chas. H. Waldron, manager).—The Reitz-Satley Co. is here this week. The olio includes: Claus and Montez, Cliff Farrell, the Rackets, Hawthorne and Bart, Chas. W. Douglas and the Yamamoto Bros. Last week, Fulton's Jolly Grass Widows gave a good show and had excellent business. Next week, New York Stars.

LYCEUM THEATRE (G. H. Batcher, manager).—Rush & Weber's Dainty Duchess Burlesques are at the Lyceum this week. The company are seen in the usual two burlesques, "The Rackets" and "The Yamamoto Bros." Last week, Fulton's Jolly Grass Widows gave a good show and had excellent business. Next week, New York Stars.

CRACKER JACKS (Harry N. Farren, manager).—The bill at this house (formerly Music Hall) includes: John T. Kelly and company, Elsie Janis, Mme. Sapirofski, Hengler Sisters, Chas. Leonard Fletcher, the Carmen Troupe, Jackson Family, Simon and Paris, Cooper and Robinson and the vitagraph. Business continues excellent. The new Washington Street lobby will be opened Monday, 13.

Boston.—There are few important changes of bill at the theatres the current week. Viola Allen, in "The Winter's Tale," at Hollis, and Lew Dockstader's Minstrels, at Hollis, are the principal ones. Other changes are: Edward Blondell, in "The Lost Boy," at the Globe; "Escaped from the Harem," at the Grand Opera House; "The Sixth Commandment," at the Castle Square, and "The Man o' War's Man," at the Bowdoin Square. The continued attractions are: Wm. Faversham, in "Letty," at the Colonial; Annie Russell, in "Brother Jacques," at the Park; "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," at the Boston, and Wright Lorimer, in "The Shepherd King," at the Majestic. Commencing Monday, 13, Music Hall will be called the Empire Theatre, and will continue as a vaudeville house. Business was good at all amusements places last week.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE (Isaac B. Rich, manager).—Viola Allen, in "The Winter's Tale," opens a fortnight's engagement Monday evening, Feb. 13. In support of Miss Allen are Henry Jewett, Boyd Putnam, Frank Currier, James Young, C. Leslie Allen and others. Ethel Barrymore closed her two weeks' stay last Saturday evening. Her new play, "Sunday," was favorably received by crowded houses at all performances.

THEATRE (Jno. B. Schoeffel, manager).—Lew Dockstader and his minstrel company will occupy the Tremont for two weeks, beginning Monday evening, 13. "The Philistene," produced last week by the Bank Officers' Association, was a decided success. E. S. Willard follows Feb. 27.

COLONIAL THEATRE (Chas. Frohman, Rich & Harris, managers).—Wm. Faversham, in "Letty," is now in his second and last week at this house. The play has been favorably handled by the critics, and the strong supporting company has also won deserved praise. Capacity business ruled last week. manager).—The Kentucky Belles furnished the fun and music this week at this popular house. "Murphy's Masqueraders" is the vehicle which introduces the company. The olio names Reid and Gilbert, the Luigi Brothers Terry and Elmer, the Reliance Quartet and Alleen and Hamilton. "Miss Clover's Burlesques" stood them up last week.

ASTIN & STONE'S MUSIUM (Stone & Shaw, managers).—Curio hall features second and last week: Zip, the "What Is It?" Billy Wells, anvil skul: Raymond and Stanton, lady boxers: the Dalvines, in naughts: Jim Irwin, trapezist, and others. Stage show: Ira Donnette, Hilfton, Tom Bryant, Charley Farrell, Agnes Parson, John E. Gray, May Morris, Marie Glenn, Helen Parr, Josephine Larothe, Spedden and Herscov, O'Brien and Dunlop, Carey and Cotter, and Low Benedict's Society Minstrels. This resort is packed at all times.

WALKER'S STAR VAUDEVILLE (L. B. Walker, manager).—"Continuous vaudeville" week of 13: Coburn and Volt, Perkins and Collins, Geo. Lorene, Geo. Lawrence, Lillie May Hall and the bioscope. Curio hall features will be added next week. Business continues good.

NICKELODEON (L. B. Walker, manager).—The usual number of curio hall attractions and vaudeville acts are offered patrons this week.

NOTES.—Wright Lorimer will appear, in "The Man o' War's Man," at the Majestic Theatre, on the afternoon of Feb. 13, for the benefit of the Franklin Square House. Helen Bates McNally, a chorus girl, lost a suit for $30,000 against Robt. E. Lee, both of this city. . . . Mme. Annette Welsh gave a pupils' list, at St. Paul, last Monday evening. . . . E. B. Jack is in town, in advance of Annie Russell, at the Park Theatre. . . . Sunday concert bills 12: Bowdoin Square, McCabe, Savine and Vera, Athos Family, Alt Grant, Le Roy and Woodford, Rice and Elmer, Drummer Quartette, Toledo and Price, Lawrence and Thompson, Chas. and Collins, Levine and Alma and the Calhouns. . . . Large musicals took place at the Boston, Globe and Columbia.

Lowell.—At the Lowell Opera House (Fay Bros. & Hordford, managers).—Nance O'Neill was welcomed by an 8. O. N. House, Feb. 6, in "The Jewess." The M. O. N. Dramatic Club, in "The Wife," played 8, the house being filled to overflowing. Stetson's "T. T. C.," 10, 11, played to big business and pleased. The Fiske Stock Co., in repertory, 13-18.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC (Richard F. Murphy, manager).—"Rip Van Winkle," 6-8, did good business. "The Middleman," with Louise Russell, pleased good sized houses 9-11. Patricia, in "Driven From Home," 10-11, did good business. . . . Casto (Al Haynes, manager).—Business was to the capacity last week. Bill 13-18: McWatters-Tyson Co., the Everett Four, Charles McDonald, Julia Humes, Quigg, White and Nickerson, Cal Stewart, Matthews and Haverly, and Fanny and Gilbert. . . . Boston (J. L. Tebbetts, manager).—The usual capacity business and pleasing bills, "Bargain Night" and "The Country Store" are successes, as usual. Current week's bill is headed by Lawrence and Thompson and Black and Leach.

THEATRE (Harry A. Woodward, manager).—Good business continues. Last week hits were made by Iola Dodge, a very clever child singer; Moran, Juggler, and Harry Hansen's comedy musical act.

— Edith Kennard is recovering from the effects of a severe operation, performed in a private hospital in Paris, in which city she was engaged in journalistic work.

— Mrs. James Lewis is visiting her friend, Mrs. John Schoefel, in Boston, Mass.

Figure 1 is a line graph showing the percentage of correct responses for the 100-item test across four groups: 100% correct, 90% correct, 80% correct, and 70% correct. The x-axis represents the number of items (0 to 100). The y-axis represents the percentage of correct responses (0% to 100%). The 100% correct group is a horizontal line at 100%. The 90% correct group is a horizontal line at 90%. The 80% correct group is a horizontal line at 80%. The 70% correct group is a horizontal line at 70%.

"THE INSTRUMENTAL MAN."

The Highest Salaried Single Artist on the Coast! Broke All Records of Receipts!

WHAT MANAGERS SAY:

I have, at great expense, brought Falardo, the Instrumental Man, direct from New York to the Orpheum Theatre, in Seattle, and we have broken all records of receipts this week. Falardo is the only act of his kind in the world. His imitations are without an equal.—EDWIN R. LANG, Mgr. Orpheum Theatre.

GRAND THEATRE, VANCOUVER, B. C.—After keeping the wires hot in the completion of negotiations, which have lasted for several weeks, I have at last secured a star feature to head the programme for this week. Falardo, for whom managers all along the coast were fighting, does an act that is absolutely unrivaled, for which he receives the highest salary of any single artist on the circuit.—Manager Ely, Oct. 15, 1904.

MESSRS. NOLAND & BLUM, Mgrs. of the New $150,000 Theatre Jose, San Jose, Cal.—Falardo's act is one of the greatest novelties on the vaudeville stage—one so strong that we have allowed it to be featured above anything else that has ever appeared here. It is exciting the curiosity of the public.

SAN JOSE MERCURY, Nov. 15, 1904.—Packed to the doors was the Theatre Jose last night, to witness the greatest novelty act ever in the city. Falardo is truly a great act. Great from the standpoint that it shows what the human voice is capable of doing if it is controlled and trained as this man has trained his. Mr. Falardo's act is a novelty such as has never been seen here before, and if you miss seeing him, the chances are the opportunity will never present itself again. His imitations are so realistic that if he could only be heard and not seen, you would declare that the instruments themselves were being played. His imitation of a cello is worth the price of admission alone.

THE PRESS.

Much anticipation has been created by the announcement of the coming of Falardo. To say he made good his advance notices would be expressing it mildly. Falardo is the greatest imitator in the world, and presents something which is original. He needs no copyright, for his turn cannot be duplicated. He alone possesses the marvelous ability. Falardo uses nothing but his voice and vocal chords which nature bestowed upon him, yet with accuracy he imitates any sound at will. Every musical instrument in the curriculum of music he can imitate and you can almost imagine you are listening to a stringed band. He imitates the bassoon, the bugle calls and a triple tongue solo on the cornet. His imitations of the country orchestra and German band sprinkle humor in his clever work to good advantage. He imitates the banjo very well, and also gives other novel samples of his wonderful ability. To conclude his turn he imitates a violin cello, rendering a selection from "Cavalleria Rusticana," and it is a marvel. You can close your eyes and never doubt for a moment that you are not hearing a celloist playing his instrument.—TELEGRAM, Fresno, Cal.

GOLDEN GATE GLEANINGS.

Generally Good Business is the Report From the Coast.

Special Despatches to THE NEW YORK CLIPPER.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 14.—At the Columbia Lawrence D'Orsay began, 13, a two weeks' engagement, in "The Earl of Pawtucket," to a good house.

MAJESTIC.—"My Precious Baby" 13-18. Business is very large.

ALCAZAR.—A revival of "Old Heidelberg" is given this week.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.—This is the second week of "Mother Goose."

CALIFORNIA.—Harry Beresford, in "Our New Man," this week's offering.

CENTRAL.—"The Night Before Christmas" is current.

TIVOLI OPERA HOUSE.—This is the sixth and last week of the Italian grand opera season by Mexico Opera Co. It is reported that the regular Tivoli company will reopen 20, in "Boccaccio," followed by "Florodora."

ORPHEUM.—Bill opening 12: Ford and Wilson, Paulton and Dooley, Howard and Bland, Newell and Niblo, Cole and Johnson, Jack Gardner, Robert H. Hodges and Co., and Quigley Bros. and the Orpheum motion pictures.

CHUTES.—Bill opening 13: Ahearn and Baxter, Kline and Gotthold, Clifford and Burke, Mabel Lamson, the Star Trio, and Mrs. Chick and the biograph.

The policy of the house will shortly be changed by making the first part of the theatre entertainment one of vaudeville and the second part a short dramatic sketch. It may be that in the near future travesty, musical extravaganza and burlesques may be put on with a first class company, introducing the latest plays and with appropriate music and specialties.

NOTES.—One of the most successful entertainments at the Chutes at the present time, and one that has given more pleasure than many already shown is "The Wonder Scope," a succession of gorgeous electrical transformations showing views of the most noted places in the world, both by day and night. Arrangements for this entertainment (a California invention) has been made with Broadway and the biograph, and other Eastern resorts for the coming season. It gives not only an interesting but a scenically beautiful view of the noted places in the world, and is instructive as well as entertaining. Kolb and Dill and a made up company appear at the Grand Opera House for two weeks following "Mother Goose," March 5, in "I. O. U." Kolb is now in Chicago looking up material. Paul Steinhardt, musical director of the Tivoli, will lead an orchestra of fifty picked men. Melba concert. A grand orchestral and choral concert will be given at the Alhambra Theatre on Friday evening, Feb. 24. David Bispham will give a series of three concerts at Lyric Hall, under the direction of Will H. Greenleaf, Feb. 21, 23 and 25. Ella Wheeler Wilcox, the author of "Mizpah," is at present visiting here and has been revising the play. It was intended that her co-author, Luscombe Searle, should have also taken a hand in the revision, but he remains ill and prevented him. Mary Young, a comedienne, has been added to the Alcazar Co.

FROM OTHER POINTS.

Cold Weather Reported From All Points and Business Suffers in Consequence.

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—Bitterly cold weather marked the week's beginning, and only the determined showgoer was in evidence. Nevertheless the Sunday crowds were, as usual, large and anxious for amusements. The theatrical event of Chicago's year started at 2.30 Monday evening, when "Paral" opened its fortnight at the Illinois Theatre with a stated advance sale of nearly eighteen thousand dollars. At the Grand Opera House James K. Hackett offered the other Monday novelty, in "The Fortunes of the King," before a good house.

At the Lyric Theatre, M. M. May tried his "Power," "The Girl and the Bandit," at Studebaker, and "Ben Hur," at the Auditorium, continued their engagements. Monday night "Friends" was the stock offering at the Bush Temple, and other stock company houses offered pleasing bills. Sunday night "The Royal Chef" packed Hyde & McVicker's, before capacity business. Sunday afternoon Florence Bindley gave "The Street Singer," at the Great Northern, to big business. The popular priced houses attracted their enthusiastic clientele, in spite of the cold wave, Sunday afternoon and evening, and the burlesque houses were largely patronized. The Flints, hypnotists, are at Oak Park, a Chicago suburb, this week.

.....The vaudeville houses began the week with capacity business, as usual.

Boston, Feb. 14.—Viola Allen, in "Winter's Tale," opened at the Hollis last night, and had a big audience. Low Dock started its engagement at the Tremont to good patronage.

Other new bills drawing well were "The Lost Boy," at the Globe; "Escaped from the Harem," at the Grand Opera House; "The Sixth Commandment," at the Castle Square, and "The Man of War's Man," at the Bowdoin Square. Continued attractions, opening the last week of their engagements, to well filled houses, were: Wm. Faversham, in "Letty," at the Colonial; Wright Limerick, in "The Shepherd King," at the Majestic; and "Mrs. Viggs, or the Abigail Patch," at the Boston. Annie Russell, at the Park, in "Brother Jacques," opened her second week, prosperously. The Empire Theatre (formerly Music Hall), Keith's and the Howard had new vaudeville bills and did usual good business. Burlesque houses fared well. The weather was disagreeable.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 14.—Cincinnati is experiencing the coldest blizzard of the winter, and under adverse conditions the week began well. Edna May was seen in "The School Girl," at the Grand. The return to the Walnut Street opera, "The Sign of the Cross," and "Dances of Russia," at the Lyceum, struck popular chords. No Wedding Bells for Her" enjoyed its premier at Heck's. The Forepaugh Stock Company did nicely with a revival of "Romeo and Juliet," at Robinson's. Columbia's vaudeville offerings pleased big audiences. Harry Bryant's Extravaganza Company gave a pleasing performance at the People's.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 14.—Satisfactory business all around was the story told of the openings last night. Forbes Robertson attracted a large audience at the Broad, and earned appreciation for "Love and the Man.""The Other Girl," at the Garrick; "Babes in Toyland," at the Chestnut Street Opera House; "Mama's Papa," at the Casino, and "The Eternal City," at the Park, all continued well."Piff" Piff, at the Walnut, with "The Jewel of Asia," and other combination houses, had full attendance. Good stock productions invited the liberal patronage of the Lyceum. Vaudeville filled Keith's afternoon and evening, and the burlesque houses did nicely. The Museum, the Eleventh Street Opera House and other houses all fared well.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—William Gillette opened in "The Admirable Crichton" at the National to a crowded house. Ezra Kendall, in "Weatherbeaten Benson," was well received at the Columbia. Al. H. Wilson, in "The Watch on the Rhine," had a crowded house at the Lafayette."Too Proud to Beg" packed the Academy. John H. Rice and Sally Conn were the head liners of a fine bill at Chase's, filling the house both afternoon and night. The Moonlight Maids had two good sized audiences at the Lyceum.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 14.—Attendance was hardly up to the standard Sunday, the severe weather keeping a good share of the theatregoers at home."The County Chairman" was well received at Davidson's, "Happy Hooligan" at the Alhambra, Reilly and Wood at the Star, and the Russell Brothers, in "The Female Detective," at the Bijou, also went well. Both the Tharbooner and Wachsmeyer stock companies were exceptions to the rule and had their regulars in attendance.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 14.—Rose Melville, in "Sis Hopkins," opened to large business at the Grand. Helen Grantley, in "Her Lord and Master," at the Century, opened to fair business."Dangers of Working Girls" packed them twice at the Gillis. A good bill at the Orpheum, headed by Mabel McKinley, opened to capacity houses. At the Auditorium "The Span of Life" packed the house. At the Century, Miner's American Burlesquers scored.

LOUISVILLE, Feb. 14.—Maxine Elliott opened at Macaulay's to a good house."The Seminary Girls," at the Masonic, drew a large audience."Kidnapped in New York," at the Avenue, the Knickerbocker, and the Buckingham, and vaudeville, at Hopkins, opened to big houses Sunday.

the action of "The Gold King." Mr. Cameron played the part of York, Pa., Saturday night, Jan. 25. The actor, W. Cameron, character actor, met with accident that may cost him the loss of his left eye. Cameron was playing the part of Allen Reed, and in the final scene there was a scene in which Miss Fleming chased him from the stage, throwing potatoes at him. One of the potatoes struck Mr. Cameron squarely in the right eye. After remaining for some time following under the care of Dr. Spahn, of that city, Mr. Cameron came to New York, and is now confined to his home, No. 51 West Twelfth Street. Mr. Cameron, from last accounts, has completely lost the sight of the injured eye, and whether or not it will be permanent his doctors cannot yet say.

—Chas. T. Fales Comedy Co. Notes:—Business so far is fine, and everyone is happy. Our company is as strong as ever, and our sets are fine. We can carry twenty sets of our own special accounts, etc. Manager Fales' new drama, "Merry in New York," packs them in and pleases everyone.

DOES THIS TRAMP GO TO HEAVEN?

This the prettiest BABY SONG on the musical calendar. Everybody who uses it makes a hit right off the reel. The song is based on an actual incident from real life, around which has been woven a most beautiful melody. The title page shows a cut of President Roosevelt's "Oyster Bay 86 Engine," with a little orphan child in the attitude of prayer in cab window. 16 beautiful slides, posed from life; price, $5.00 per set. Singers who send late programmes will receive professional copies free. REGULAR PIANO COPIES MAILED UPON RECEIPT OF 25c. IN POSTAGE STAMPS. Address

THEATRICAL MUSIC SUPPLY CO., 44 West 28th St., NEW YORK.

FLETCHER SMITH writes as follows: "I will close my fifth season as agent of the McPhee attractions at North Bay, Can., about April 1, and after a brief vacation will go out in charge of the advance brigade of the McPhee Big One Ring Circus. The present season has embraced a trip from St. Paul through Manitoba and the Northwest Territories, and business has been the largest in the history of the show. Next season Mr. McPhee contemplates putting out two shows to make a trip to the coast and return from St. Paul. During the winter painters and decorators have been busy at Medina, N. Y., and the circus will go out next season unexcelled or eclipsed by any wagon show in America. The giant horse, twenty-two hands high, which was a leading feature of the side show last season, died at the winter quarters a short time ago, and was a great loss to the show, as it was a great drawing card with the farmers. Thos. Kinn, who used to get them in with the Sautelle show, will manage the side show again this season, and J. B. Swardoff will be the general agent."

LUIS VILLANOVA writes from San Jose, Costa Rica, as follows: "In the history of amusement enterprises in South American countries, no circus has ever been known to do the phenomenal business that the Tony Lowande Circus and Menagerie is enjoying in San Jose, Costa Rica. The company was in Panama, doing big business, when the Costa Rica government made a special effort to get the company to the coast and to the coast of December, paying all steamship and railroad fares from the City of Panama to San Jose, besides a presentation in United States gold, free printing, free ground and license. We are showing to crowded houses daily and nightly, and turnaways are not uncommon occurrences. Our prices of admission are the highest ever charged in these countries. Mr. Lowande is the first proprietor to bring to these countries high class trained wild animals such as are to be found in his collection in the famous riding lion, Wallace. Another feature he has introduced, which has been accepted by the people most favorably and which no other show has ever done, is the giving of two shows daily, the same as in the States. The company will go from here to Venezuela, then return to Panama, with Ecuador, Peru and Chili to follow. It is more than probable that at the conclusion of this cruise, 1906 will find Tony Lowande casting lots with some of the greatest American managers."

NORMAN BOYSTER, Brook.—It seems that the birds of the North have kept right along with the Golden Mascot show on its long journey toward the Gulf of Mexico. The meadow larks greet the troopers at early morn, and the winter birds just as they did all summer, further north only there are more of them. They go about in flocks, as many as fifty being seen together in the fields along the roadside. Buzzards are so numerous and so tame that they will sit low on the approach of the troopers, and it is not often we get a good look at one. The country abounds with small red squirrels and is fairly alive with fat opossums, which, served by process of barbecue, graced many of our holiday dinners in Texas. It is remarkable how the Texans at this season of the year patronize the Golden Mascot Show, and it seems odd to be showing under canvas to such crowds in the dead of winter. The people are demonstrative and extremely noisy in their applause, and some times add a pistol shot to accentuate their appreciation. Although they mean this only in a friendly salute it does not tend to create a taste for more of it. At Stephenville the Morgans Mills boys were out to witness the performance and to prevent, if possible, any extraordinary use of firearms, the sheriff swore in forty deputies, and there was only one shot fired during the evening. The big top was packed to its full seating capacity.

W. S. DUMINGTON has been engaged to manage advertising car, with Carl Hagenbeck Trained Animal Shows for the coming season.

THE AL. F. WHEELER NEW MODEL SHOWS will add a small menagerie the coming season, a cage of lions, cage of bears and several cages of small animals being the latest acquisitions.

FRANK J. HURLEY, of Elizabeth N. J., novelty musical performer, who was with Hargreaves' Big K. R. Shows last season, has signed for this coming season with Sig. Sautelle and Welsh Bros. Combined Shows.

J. J. CHAMBERLAIN, handmaster, has signed with Sig. Sautelle & Welsh Bros. Combined Shows for the season of 1905.

JOE LA FLEUR played the mid-Winter Exposition, Topeka, Kan., week of Jan. 30, at the Orpheum, New Orleans, La.; Metropolitan, St. Paul, Minn., and the Dominion, at Winnipeg, and reports fine success. Mr. La Fleur has signed with the Forepaugh-Sells Bros. Shows the summer season, to do his sensational aerial act.

RECENT ENGAGEMENTS FOR THE FRANK A. ROBBINS Greatest of All New Feature Shows are as follows: The Grezgas, double leaping and looping the gap; Josh Ashton, Johnnie Rooney, Joe Cousins and Mrs. Cousins, principal riders; Harry Rentz, mule hurdle; Three Heumanns, trick bicyclists; Four Gregorys, aerial bars; Two Elletts, trapeze; Billy Carroll and wife and trick mule, the Wentz Duo, gymnasts; Four Daros, aerial bars; the Kosters, Hippodrome riders; El Nino Eddie, bounding wire; H. Inman, elephant posturing; Mlle. Jantia, web act; Albert Gaston, clown; Charles Blitz, clown juggler; Willy Shrode, principal clown; Mlle. Wonderly, snake enchantress; Flossie La Blance, strong woman; Jean Foster, minstrel; Harry Shipman, minstrel; Jonathan Purvis, equestrian director; additional to this programme Mr. Robbins has contracted with a well known producer of spectacular novelties for the historical spectacle, "The Tribunal of Nations," introducing the rulers of the world covering a period of one hundred years.

GREAT ACTIVITIES are in evidence around the headquarters of Minelli Bros., two big dramatic companies at Delaware, O., which will take the road under canvas early in May. The companies, also the spread of canvas, will be the largest in the history of the shows.

FRANK ELLET, manager of the Great Ellet Troupe, is visiting with his wife at McKees Rocks, Pa., for a few weeks. The troupe is signed with one of the big shows for next season.

F. W. FALKNER writes: "The Drake & Faulkner New United R. R. Shows recently purchased the bulk of the McFarland & Holder Shows at the sale in Philadelphia. Our entire train of cars, including the advance cars, will now be in the shops being overhauled, and will have the appearance of new on our opening."

WILL C. NELLO, magician and Punch, last season with Gollmar Circus, goes with Lambrieger's Zoo next season.

MRS. CHAS. L. NELL was admitted to the hospital at Harrisburg, Pa., on Feb. 1, suffering with typhoid fever.

W. W. POWER has acquired the four performing war elephants of the Walter L. Main shows. He has been successful in vaudeville with these big animals, and a new vaudeville act, now preparing, will be presented in about three weeks. Mr. Power says this will astonish the public, as he claims nothing like it has ever been presented in America.

Vaudeville and Minstrel.

LILLIE WESTON (late Leola, of Hyde and Leola) writes: "I was granted an absolute divorce from R. D. Hyde Jan. 31. I will hereafter use my own name, Lillie Weston, and will work alone in a new act."

RUSH AND GORDON are filling an engagement at Keeney's, Brooklyn, this week, with their new act. It is their first appearance in the East in eleven months.

MATTIE KEENE and Co., presenting the new military act, "Wife or Country," written by Ella Wheeler Wilcox, have just closed a tour of the Coast circuit and the Park Theatre, Worcester. The act is dressed in a historically correct and deals with the period of Lincoln's last call for volunteers in 1864.

THEO. SMITH-FULLER and JENNY ST. GEORGE played an excellently successful engagement at Hurlig & Seamon's Music Hall last week. Their high class selections, especially Miss St. George's solos, found ready response.

LEONA RAYMOND and EDNA WAYNE closed with Weber's Parliam Widow Co. Jan. 28, and opened in Cleveland, O., with Gus Hill's "Happy Hooligan" Co. (Eastern).

PRESS ELDREDGE celebrated his birthday Feb. 14, and received a goodly number of remembrances of that day, referring to them in his usual talk on the stage at night in St. Louis.

MRS. MARIE SPARROW writes: "In order to dispel the impression that I was confined in the hospital in New York with my husband, Harry Sparrow, at the time of his death, I wish to state that, together with our finger ring, I was taken to St. Francis Hospital, I was formerly known to the profession as Pauline Mayhew. I am now working over the Three L. Circuit."

NOTES FROM AL. G. FIELD'S MINSTRELS.—As the years go by, Al. G. Field seems to be getting new energy, and every year he announces a new show, and always keeps his word. This year he announces an entire new show, teeming with novelties. His new first part, which is about finished, is built upon new lines. "The Circus Club" is the title of it, and it is patterned after the famous club of that name in Washington. It ought to be a novelty, if one is to form a judgment from the nature of these entertainments, and the prototype should make a bright bit in most of the shows. The club is composed of the correspondents of the papers from all over the country, and their wit and sarcasms are well known. Many other innovations are announced. The interesting features will be an act called "The Blacktown Fire Brigade," introduced by a real book and ladder and engine, together with all of the life saving devices of the present day. The work of the Hale fire fighters at the St. Louis Exposition is the foundation of the production. Although a strong element of comedy runs through the entire skill, the run of the fire brigade to the fire will be a novel feature. The matchless white horses Mr. Field has carried with him for years will be used in this scene. Everhart, Mr. Field's European agent, has engaged an act in Europe which he thinks will be a great feature for this company. The act includes six persons. Their performances are in the air, on the style of the so called aerial ballet, though they are said to move through space with more certainty and grace than the aerialists. There will be a much larger number of minstrel performers, both singers and dancers, than the company has carried heretofore. Mr. Field says he has established his show as the family show of this country, and will exert himself to give it to them. To this end he is spending more money than heretofore, and hopes to succeed in presenting a show greater than any in the past. With the splendid material he is gathering around him on the coast, and the accession of the foreign features, this season's offering should prove Mr. Field's greatest accomplishment.

JACK WALLACE writes: "My partner, Bob Sheriffs, is suffering from a severe attack of grip, and is forced to cancel all dates for February."

JENIE JACOBS has booked a number of prominent acts for openings in New York. Among them are: Zulu (now at Proctor's Twenty-third Street Theatre), Harry Hon din, Manhattan Comedy Troupe, Coco (now at the Palace, London), Herr Geo. She visited the United States in 1888 and sang in the roles of Isolde, Brunhilde, Donna Anna, Valentine, Fidelio and Elizabeth. She was about fifty years of age, and her maiden name

NEW YORK CITY.

Review and Comment.—Good business was enjoyed by the local houses last week. Among the openings on Monday night, Feb. 6, was the first American production of "Op o' Me Thumb," a one act play, by Fredrick Fenn and Richard Bryce, which claimed the most attention. It was presented at the Knickerbocker Theatre. E. S. Willard on the same date gave the first New York City production of "The Brighter Side," a four act play, translated by Louis N. Parker from Alfred Capus' "La Châtelaine." As "The Optimist" the play had previously been presented in this country by Mr. Willard. . . . Other Monday night productions were: "The Taming of the Shrew," by Ada Rehan and company, at the Liberty Theatre, and "Sweet Kitty Bellairs," by Henrietta Crossman and company, at the Academy of Music. . . . On Wednesday night, 8, the Colonial Music Hall, a new home of vaudeville, was opened, under the management of Thompson, Dundy & Ryley. An account of the opening will be found elsewhere in this issue. . . . At the Criterion Theatre, afternoon of Thursday, 9, students of the American Academy of Dramatic Arts and Empire Theatre Dramatic School, gave their fourth performance of the season, the bill being "Les Corbeaux" ("The Crows"), a four act comedy, by Henry Becque, and translated into English by Mrs. Charles A. Doernum. . . . Just before the Casino opened for its regular matinee on Saturday, 11, a fire was discovered in a small room on the balcony floor. The flames spread quickly and considerable damage was done to the front part of the interior before the firemen mastered the blaze. Fortunately no lives were lost, although there were many people in the theatre when the fire broke out, a rehearsal being in progress. The loss is variously estimated at from $10,000 to $30,000, and it will take several weeks to make the requisite repairs before the house can be reopened. The owners of the estate being abroad, it is not yet determined what will be done with the building, the popular opinion being that it will now be converted into a ground floor theatre. . . . The continued attractions for the week ending Feb. 11 were: Ada Rehan at the Liberty, Henrietta Crossman at the Academy, Ward and Vokes at the New York, "Frigate" at the Savoy, "Mrs. Leffingwell's Boots" at the New Lyceum, Robert Edeson at the Hudson, Blanche Walsh at the Herald Square, the stock company at the Madison Square, E. S. Willard at the Knickerbocker, Raymond Hitchcock, in "The Yankee Consul," at WALLACK'S; "Buster Brown" at the Majestic, Arnold Daly at the Garrick, "The Dutchess of Dantzic" at Daly's, David Warfield at the Biltmore, Mrs. Leslie Carter at the Belasco, "Fantana" at the Lyric, Francis Wilson at the Criterion, Fritz Scheff at the Broadway, Maude Adams at the Empire, "It Happened in Nordland" at the Lew Fields, "Humpty Dumpty" at the New Amsterdam, "Higgledy-Piggledy" at the Weber Music Hall, "The College Widow" at the Garden, Mrs. Fiske and stock company at the Manhattan, a stock company at the Yorkville, the German stock company at the Irving Place, and Edward Terry at the Princess. At PROCTOR'S FIFTH AVENUE, PROCTOR'S FIFTY-EIGHTH STREET and ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-FIFTH STREET THEATRES stock productions, with vaudeville between acts, continued. . . . The one week stands closing 11 were: "On the Bridge at Midnight" at the Third Avenue, Ralph Stuart at the Fourteenth Street, Johnny and Emma Ray at the Murray Hill, "A Desperate Chance" at the Windsor, the Rogers Brothers at the Grand Opera House, "Fast Life in New York" at the American, Louis Mann, in "The Second Fiddle," at the Harlem Opera House; "Checkers" at the West End, Dan McAvoy, in "His Honor, the Mayor of the Bowery," at the Metropolitan, and "Queen of the White Slaves" at the Star. . . . Variety entertainment was furnished at the Colonial, the Circle, Keith's Union Square, PROCTOR'S TWENTY-THIRD STREET, TONY PASTOR'S, the Victoria, MINER'S EIGHTH AVENUE, MINER'S BOWERY, the London, the Dewey, HURST & SEANON'S, the Gotham and the Olympic. At HUBER'S MUSEUM the usual list of vaudeville and curios were presented. . . . For the week ending Feb. 11 (twelfth week) the bills at the Metropolitan Opera House were: Monday night, 6, "Un Ballo in Maschera," with this cast: Amelia, Mme. Emma Farnes; Ulrica, Mme. Louise Homer; Oscar, Bella Alten; Riccardo, Mr. Caruso; Renato, Mr. Scotti; Samuel, Pol Plancon; Tom, Mr. Journet; Silvano, Mr. Begue; Un Giudice, Mr. Giordani; Un Servo, Mr. Zecchi. Arturo Vigna conducted. This was Mme. Farnes' first appearance in this role. Wednesday night, 8, "Les Huguenots" (in Italian), with the same cast as before. Mr. Vigna conducted. Thursday afternoon, "Die Walkure," cast thus: Brunhilde, Edythe Walker; Fricka, Mme. Homer; Siegmund, Mme. Emma Farnes; Siegmund, Mr. Burgstaller; Wotan, Mr. Van Rooy; Hunding, Mr. Blass. Alfred Hertz conducted. Friday night, 10, "Lucia di Lammermoor," with Mme. Sembrich, Mr. Caruso and the rest of the cast the same as when last presented. Mr. Vigna conducted. Saturday afternoon, 11, "Tristan and Isolde," with this cast: Isolde, Mme. Nordica; Brangäne, Mme. Walker; Tristan, Mr. Dippel; Kurwenal, Mr. Van Rooy; König Marke, Mr. Blass; Melot, Mr. Muhlmann; Ein Hirt, Mr. Reiss; Stimme des Seemanns, Mr. Bars; Der Steuermann, Mr. Walther. This was Mr. Dippel's first appearance here as Tristan. Mr. Hertz conducted. Saturday night, 11, "Romeo et Juliette," with the following cast: Juliette, Mme. Aldo Ackte; Stephano, Mme. Jacoby; Gertrude, Mme. Bauermeister; Romeo, Mr. Saleza; Frère Laurent, Pol Plancon; Capulet, Mr. Journet; Tybalt, Mr. Bars; Mercutio, Mr. Parvia; Le Due de Verone, Mr. Muhlmann. Naham Franko conducted.

Proctor's Fifth Avenue Theatre (J. Austin Fynes, general manager).—The stock company is presenting this week "The Money Makers," George Rollett's farce, which was produced at the Liberty Theatre, this city. Edwin Arden did capital work Feb. 13, as Capt. Archie, and Eugene O'Rourke gave scores here in his original role. Edmund Lyons, also in his original character, made the hit of the play. Marion Berg and Isabelle Evesson were deserving of praise, and Gertrude Berkeley did splendid work as the actress. The others of the company were: Brandon Hurst, Edmund Lyons, Lillian Thurgate, Annie Ward, Tiffany, John Westley, Herbert Ayling, Katharine Hyatt, Lotta Hunsell, Viola Bell, Mabel Crawley, Collin Campbell, Francis Fay, Millard Cary, Tilden, Irving Hess, E. W. Powers, Ralph J. Locke, Matthew Ashley, George Wallace. In the vaudeville were the Twelve Wood Nymphs, an act which has made a distinct success; the Athos Family, four in number, whose remarkable acrobatic act went big; Huggedy Doughty, the famous minstrel; Bates Musical Trio, Carter and Blufford, Herr Phillips, an operatic tenor, whose voice is an exceedingly good one; Joe Morris, Hebrew comedian, and Nanon Jacques, soprano. The motion pictures continue.

Princess Theatre (Sam S. Shubert, manager).—Edward Terry gave New York its first view of a three act farce, by C. Stephenson and W. Yardley, entitled "The Passport," evening of Feb. 10, and by some broadly farcical work on his own part succeeded in holding the interest of a big audience, whose patience was rather sorely tried by a prologue and long act. In justice to the play it should be said that there were a number of good comedy situations and some funny lines disclosed during its unfolding, but they were spread over a high surface and the intervening happenings were so comical that the play was rather a welcome one. There is some good material in the play, if it were properly handled, and several of the characters came close to being excellent. The leading female role of a most forgetful woman, who was overdrawn and in the order of caricature, but it offered great opportunities for an author who might possess the skill of character drawing, and it seemed a shame to have it so poorly handled. The story begins in a small Russian railway station, where Christopher Coleman, a pompous member of the British Parliament, is held up by a Russian official on the charge of being a criminal and stealing a passport belonging to himself. A Mrs. Darcy is also a difficulty in the play, and in order to help her Ferdinand Sinclair, a man who has a passport made out for himself and wife, prevails upon her to proceed on her journey as Mrs. Sinclair. As Sinclair and Coleman are friends, the former extricates the member of Parliament from his difficulties, and introduces Mrs. Darcy as Mrs. Sinclair. Later on Sinclair, whose real wife has died, marries Coleman's daughter, and Mrs. Darcy marries Coleman's partner. The former Mrs. Darcy's appearance upon the scene directly after Sinclair's marriage to Coleman furnishes no end of complications, which are finally straightened out to the satisfaction of all. Mr. Terry was genuinely funny along burlesque lines, and Nellie Mortyne struggled with some degree of success with the impossible melodrama. Coleman, who was played by Mr. Sinclair, came a bore. George Howard did some good work as the officious Russian who holds up the Coleman, and Arthur Cornell played Coleman's partner naturally and effectively. The others of the company were: Mr. Sinclair, the cast: Ferdinand Sinclair, T. Lovell; Christopher Coleman, Edward Terry; George Greenwood, Arthur Cornell; Algy Grey, Hyatt Allen; Henry Harris, W. H. Day; Paterson, W. H. Penny; Schmirkoff, George Howard; Pedrovsky, C. McManis; Mrs. Sinclair, Nellie Mortyne; Mrs. Darcy, Olive Wilton; Mildred, Beatrice Terry; Violet Tracy, Nellie Malcolm; Markham, Clara Earle. "The Passport" gives way to "The Duke of Burdside" and "Bardell vs. Pickwick," which are continued for the rest of the week.

Fourteenth Street Theatre (J. Wesley Rosenquest, manager).—Al. H. Woods presented a melodrama new to New York City at this house matinee of Feb. 13, entitled "The Confessions of a Wife," by Owen Davis. The work is conventionally melodramatic, but was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience. Alice Rutherford, previously to the opening of the play, had married Tom Calder, and finding too late that he was already married, returns home, later wedding Oliver Ashmore. Calder turns up, and with his adventures, Ella Newcomb, comes to taunt and trouble her, and her child by her first marriage is also brought forward to increase the difficulties of her position. As is usual, villainy is suppressed and virtue triumphs at the fall of the curtain. Kate Danforth gave a thoroughly convincing portrayal of the unfortunate Alice and won unbounded applause for her excellent work. Harry Glazier, as Ashmore, was warm hearted, interesting and impressive. Joe and Nellie Doner are entitled to a special word of appreciation for a clever bit of vaudeville work which brought many encores. George S. Trimble had a difficult role as Calder, but played it intelligently and forcefully. Little Ethel Schutte was very ingeniously child and pleased as the son. The cast: Oliver Ashmore, Harry Glazier; Basil Ashmore, William Stafford; Simon Rutherford, Charles Edmonds; Tom Calder, George S. Trimble; Sam Sprouts, Joe Doner; Pete Quillet, Richard Milloy; John Norton, O. and Philip; Fred Peters, Floyd Turner; Jack Cole, M. J. Joyce; P. Tubbs, Joseph E. Long; Amos Skiff, Harry Dittus; Alice Rutherford, Kate Danforth; Ella Newcomb, Jean Patriquin; Betty Bloom, Nellie Doner; Hannah Rutherford, Sadie Stringer; Little Ethel Schutte. Next week, "Nobody's Darling."

Liberty Theatre (Klaw & Erlanger, managers).—Ada Rehan is reviving "School for Scandal" this week, which is the second and last of her engagement. The audience at the performance on Monday night, Feb. 13, forgot the commonplace scenery and mediocre acting of a number of players in the star's support, and exhibited keen pleasure in Miss Rehan's famous conception of Lady Teazle, a portrayal generally acknowledged to be close second to her Katherine in "The Taming of the Shrew." The rapidly shifting moods of gaiety, coquetry and the more serious sides of a clever woman's nature were shown with all the charm Miss Rehan was wont to invest them with in former days, and the warm tributes accorded her for her work. Charles Richman was the Charles Surface, and his acting was conspicuous for its lightness of touch. He did very well in the auction scene. Wilfred Clarke gave a very fine performance as Sir Oliver Surface. The cast: Sir Peter Teazle, William Redmond; Sir Oliver Surface, Wilfred Clarke; Sir Benjamin Backbite, Joseph Weaver; Sir Harry Bumper, Fred Walter; Joseph Surface, William Russell; Charles Surface, Charles Richman; Crabtree, Oliver D. Byron; Careless, Charles B. Welles; Moses, Fulton Russell; Rowley, Walton Pyre; Trlp, Walter Howard; Snake, Fred Daniels; Servant to Sir Peter, Willis Brown; Servant to Joseph, T. L. Davis; Servant to Lady Snervel, Edward Dillon; Lady Teazle, Ada Rehan; Lady Snervel, Blanche Weaver; Mrs. Candour, Mrs. Thomas Barry; Marie, Mrs. Theodore Carey; Maid of Lady Teazle, Fola La Follette. "The Education of Mr. Pipp" opens Feb. 20.

Daly's Theatre (Daniel Frohman, manager).—"The Duchess of Dantzic" began Feb. 13 its fifth week with a special matinee.

Don't overlook the Anniversary Number next week.

Proctor's Fifty-eighth Street Theatre (J. Austin Fynes, general manager).—The stock company this week is presenting "The Only Way," and on Monday, Feb. 13, the house was filled with holiday pleasure seekers, whose attention was held throughout the action of the play by the excellence of the performance. Appropriate accessories and a good cast made a presentation that the clientele of this house will undoubtedly appreciate during the current week. The cast in full follows: Characters in the prologue—M. Le Marquis de la Esplanade, Wallace Erskine; Viscount Albert Howson; Jean de Farge; Charles Arthur; Dr. Manette; Albert Tavernier; Peasant, Arthur Shaw. Characters in the play—Sydney Carton, William Ingersoll; Mr. Stryver, George Howell; Mr. Lorry, William Norton; Dr. Manette, Albert Howson; Charles Darnay, Wallace Erskine; Ernest de Farge, Harold Hartnell; John Barsad, Arthur Shaw; President of the Revolutionary Tribunal, Joseph Woodburn; Public Prosecutor, Wm. R. Randall; Gabelle, Chas. Howson; Traps, Citizen George Manning; Second Citizen, David Thompson; First Jurymen, Charles Jilson. In the vaudeville contingent were seen Caron and Farman, in their laughter provoking comedy acrobatics; Adeline Frances, whose good singing voice was heard to advantage, and singing duo, came in for approval. The motion pictures were favorably received as usual. Sunday's concert, Feb. 12, drew full houses as usual. Next week, "The Charley Bait."

Colonial Music Hall (Tom W. Trelley, manager).—This new Thompson & Dundy street, was opened, in what may justly be termed "a blaze of glory," night of Feb. 8. The theatre was built by Meyer R. Binberg and has been secured by Messrs. Thompson & Dundy, who propose to make it one of the finest of the English music halls. It is roomy, handsome, cheerful and was evidently built for comfort, as the aisles are wide and the seats easy. The color scheme runs to red, of a subdued shade, and does not worry the eye. The stage view is not so good as the columns, as there are only two, and these at the extreme right and left of the orchestra floor. The smoking lobby, tea rooms and wide promenade on the second floor are attractive, and as there are no lower boxes, the orchestra chairs, run from wall to wall, there is also a wide foyer in the rear of the orchestra with a row of cushioned seats against the wall. The stage in size will permit of important productions and is finely appointed as to scenery, lighting facilities, and the stage view is not so good as the columns, as there are only two, and these at the extreme right and left of the orchestra floor. THE MARCH SONG THEY'RE ALL TALKING ABOUT.

'BUNKER HILL'

Words by SAM EHRLICH.

Music by ALBERT VON TILZER.

GOING BIGGER THAN EVER. THIS SONG DOES NOT TELL THE USUAL STORY OF THE MAN GOING TO WAR, BUT IS PURELY HISTORICAL, AND WILL PROVE A SUCCESS RIGHT FROM THE START. IT TELLS OF THE BATTLE OF INDEPENDENCE, AND, AS YOU KNOW, THIS SUBJECT IS VERY DEAR TO THE HEART OF THE AMERICAN PUBLIC. THE MELODY IS ONE OF ALBERT VON TILZER'S BEST, AND WILL SET ANY AUDIENCE SINGING. WHAT MORE NEED WE SAY. YOU WANT HITS. WE WANT TO GIVE THEM TO YOU.

PROFESSIONAL COPIES AND ORCHESTRATIONS TO ALL RECOGNIZED PERFORMERS.

SLIDES.—"BUNKER HILL" IS ILLUSTRATED BY 16 OF THE MOST WONDERFUL SLIDES EVER FLASHED ON A CANVAS. YOU HAVE NEVER SEEN ANYTHING LIKE THEM. MADE BY DE WITT C. WHEELER. PRICE PER SET, $5.00.
